NAKED BOY FOUND DEAD ON RAILROAD
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 13 (A.P.).—The body of seven-year-old George Peterson was found naked in the snow on the New York Central Railroad tracks here today, the tracks of a snow, evidently of great stature, and away from the tracks. The boy was probably strangled to death, most of a man's fingers being found on the neck, and it was thought possible also he might have died from a wound.

CHARLES GARLAND, an earnest young New Englander, inherited a large fortune, refused at first to take the money, saying no man has a right to money not earned. He changed his mind, and drifted into a side-track. Convinced, perhaps, that he was an original thinker, he decided that marriage was an unnecessary institution. Now he is arrested, because a child born on his farm died, having for its mother an unmarried girl.

THE YOUNG MAN should realize that his experiment was tried by our alleged Shiloh ancestors for thousands of years before man appeared, and abandoned for our human ancestors of 10,000 years ago.

NOT TO DO AWAY with marriage, but to make men WORTHY of it, is the task of the human race. "Away from the money life" is a better motto than "back to nature."

WHEN SHE SAW President Coolidge and was asked, "How old are you?" Helen Keller replied, "How old do I look?"

MISS KELLER read what the President had to say by placing her fingers upon his lips. If she succeeded in finding out what the President thinks, she could profitably open a school in Washington, giving lessons to Sen.ators, promoters, lobbyists and others.

HELEN KELLER, who instinctively feels big personalities, kissed Senator Borah on both cheeks, when she said goodbye to him. That is one ad-

25 Hurt in Worcester Train Crash

PANORAMA VIEW OF RUINS, CRASH IN DETAIL

Here are the ruins where a dozen men were sent hurt down when the floors collapsed. The photograph shows where the floor, weakening in the work of demolition after years of service, broke away, and the spot from which rescuers dug the victims.

8 INJURED DUG FROM DEBRIS; CITY PROBES 'NEGLIGENCE' CHARGE

Two floors of the Parker House, being razed for a new hotel, collapsed today, hurling twelve workmen down, in a tangled mass of debris, into the old dining room of the hotel.

Visiting another Pickwick Club disaster when reports of the collapse came in, all available firemen and police were rushed to the scene by officials and dug into the ruins at rescue attempts.

At the Haymarket Relief Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital and the City Hospital, ambulances, doctors and nurses were sent and as the men were dragged out of the mass of splintered wood, twisted iron girders, masonry and dust-white brick they were rushed to the hospitals for treatment.

PROBES IS STARTED.
The cause of the collapse had barely been ascertained when an investigation was begun by city officials. Chief John H. Plunkett, head of the State Building and other Inspection Service, having declined to act on the ground that the matter was one for the courts.

Twelve men were injured in all, but four refused to go to hospital. The four victims were: ROBERT MALLOY, No. 27 Sara-toga place, East Boston, contusions and abrasions of right leg, scalp wound.

PONZI AGENT, GRILLED, DECIDES TO QUIT HUB

Caledonia, Alibi, North End photographer and partner of Charles Ponzi in a Florida real estate development scheme, came to Boston from Florida Monday with a Ponzi-esque scheme of opening offices and hiring agents, but now intends to start back to Florida and Charley after two momentous interviews in the office of Attorney General.

Alibi today said he was in Boston simply on a visit to his family. He is not here as Ponzi's agent, he said, but admitted that he did show the Ponzi company's circulars to a few friends who went to his home to play cards.

Even if Alibi's American of his limited procedure to which true, his investigators believe that if the new scheme is found to be illegal the mere distribution of advertising would make the parties conducting the business liable to prosecution.

At the conference that Alibi faced were the Attorney General, his assistant, James H. Devlin, Secretary Andrew Highlands of the Public Utilities Commission who has charge of the Blue Sky law investigations and State Detective Joseph Ferraro.

Alibi was accompanied only by his nephew, Henry Alibi. He said Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

105 TRAPPED IN MINE, ALL BUT 8 KILLED

Whitworth, Okla., Jan. 13 (A.P.).—Only eight of 105 men entrapped by an explosion at the Logan McConell mine, near here, today are known to be alive. They are at the bottom of the main shaft, buried under 100 feet of debris.

Rescue crews have been able to reach the bottom of the shaft but their progress into the mine has been blocked by the prevalence of "white damp," a gas resulting from the explosion.

J. R. Hyatt, chief of the United States Bureau of Mines, was here today. He was in charge of the work. Equipped with gas helmets, he and two helpers entered the shaft.

The blast wrecked the typic and destroyed the hoisting equipment. Emergency hoisting apparatus was being installed to bring out the victims after they are reached.

A frantic group of the entrapped men's relatives gathered about the mine. Word of the explosion spread quickly and crowds of sightseers from neighboring towns assembled. The shaft was roped off to hold back

SMOKE, STEAM BLIND ENGINEER IN CRASH

Worcester, Jan. 13.—Twelve persons were injured, four more or less seriously, today when a Brookfield-bound passenger train of the New Haven Railroad crashed head-on into a wreck train engine, jolted by the steam and smoke at the Jackson street bridge.

Confusion in the details, according to Louis Lawton, engineer on the passenger train, and a leading fire of smoke were responsible for the crash.

The passenger train plowed into the work train, blowing about forty passengers to the floor.

Workmen from other mines in the Whitworth Valley rushed to the scene and volunteered their assistance in the rescue work.

NICHOLS CALLS BIG RUM FLEET GUARDING BOSTON

WRECKER ON CARPET

Charge of negligence, looked to the reviving of his sense to demolish buildings, were made today by Mayor Malcolm M. Nichols and Acting Building Commissioner John H. Mahony, against Robert H. McNitt as a result of the Fisher House collapse.

According to a report on the collapse by Commissioner Mahony, the permits to work in and about the building were taken out by the Robert H. McNitt Corporation and the "Wholesale" company who were the assignees of the building. The McNitts were ordered to work on the building and the McNitts were ordered to work on the building and the McNitts were ordered to work on the building.

CLAMANT ORDERED.

"It is believed the law should be enforced, however, not to release the building wrecker from any responsibility which may attach to him under the present law. To carry the foregoing outline into effect, I have instructed the Law Department to prepare a bill for immediate presentation to the Legislature."

WALSH FINISHED OUT.

"It is the opinion of officials of the department that in carrying out the nature of the repairs the loads were transferred from the truss to the floor beams, thereby causing the collapse. Walls pushed out towards the front. Floor and trusses collapsed to the first floor."

"From information obtained after the accident, we learned that Mr. McNitt was not on the premises yesterday or today, therefore it is considered the duty of the Building Commission to give the Boston notice of a law, the upon the charges made by the Building Department."

MRS. GARLAND WAS LOVE FARM VISITOR

SOUL MATE MET WIFE AT FARM

Bettina Hovey Tells of Mrs. Garland's Visits and Another Love Child

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 13 (U.S.).—Disaster of the tiny corpse of the "love baby" alleged to have been born at "April Farm" founded by Charles Garland, the free love apostle of Massachusetts, occurred today by District Attorney Owen Boyle, in order to confirm what caused the infant's death.

One of the strange features of the "love colony," as related by Mrs. Hovey, was the fact that Mrs. Mary Weston Garland, wife of the head of the colony and mother of his three children and only child of the colony, was a frequent visitor at the colony.

WOTTER TO AD HERE.

Mrs. Garland had apparently returned her husband during the last days of his "love farm" at North Carver, Mass., but from the Hovey story it would appear that she was a frequent visitor, not only with her "estranged" husband, but even with the son and daughter of the "love colony," as related by Mrs. Hovey.

Mrs. Hovey, for whom a warrant was issued, answered voluntarily to Boyle's last night. She was released on her own recognizance. Mrs. Hovey, according to Boyle's statement, was the mother of the dead child and that Garland was the father.

ANOTHER LOVE CHILD.

Boyle said the woman told him she had been an authorized visitor to the "love farm" for many years, that she took her two-year-old son, who was living on the "love farm," to the East Boston Hospital for emergency treatment.

DREAMWOLD'S SALE FOR TAX THREATENED

Trustee of Lawson Estate Reveals Warning Notice by Squid Officer

Brockton, Jan. 12.—(Dreamworld.) The beautiful South Shore estate of the late Thomas W. Lawson, has been threatened with sale at public auction to pay for back taxes, according to William A. Burton, trustee of the Lawson estate, who is in the Lawrence court house in the probate court here.

Burton said that the tax collector of the estate has threatened with in the last few days to advertise the estate for sale. This statement was made by Burton, now trustee of the Rockland Trust Company, during cross-examination by counsel for Lawson's estate, Arnold and Douglas lawyers.

The hearing before Judge L. E. Chamberlain was brought by Burton and Horace T. Page, trustee of the estate, to prevent the two sons from interfering with the transaction.

Denial was made by Burton that he had followed Lawson's funeral in held a conversation with Douglas Lawson and William A. Burton, "not to have John P. Ferry, lawyer, named as administrator under any circumstances."

Since last March, Burton testified, he has given 20 per cent of the estate to the trust, but admitted he had received more than $1,000, both in cash and after the trust was created.

A possible sale of Dreamworld Hall at $125,000 "well threatened" because Douglas Lawson admitted the amount was $125,000, Burton said. He denied that Mrs. Lord, one of Lawson's daughters, told him the $250,000 price, his colleague, was untrue.

LEEDS FLORIDA PALACE TO BE HOME OF GEORGE, THE JOBLESS KING OF GREECE

The former Queen Elizabeth of Greece, wife of King George II, deceased February 25, 1924, one royal relative by marriage of William B. Leeds, "world's richest beggar." She was a Romanian princess and will soon go to Florida to make her home.

Prince Paul of Greece, youngest son of the late King Constantine, a "viceroy" of the "Jobless King" and his wife, who is a niece of the King Constantine of Greece. This is to be the place of royalty when the "Jobless King" and his wife go there.

William B. Leeds, multi-millionaire, came up smiling after the ceremony uniting him to Princess Anna of Greece.

Mrs. Leeds, however, seems to be pouting darkly for the future. Being just a plain American, possibly, was one to have when the photo was taken.

Should they tire of sunshine and soft seas, Leeds and his royal bride can easily run up to Boston or New York, as the map indicates.

FATE OF SACCO AND VAZZETTI IN BALANCE

The fate of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of the South Boston payroll murder, now rests with the Supreme Court.

Arguments for and against a new trial for the defendants were completed before the full bench today. Several weeks, perhaps months, will elapse before the highest tribunal in the state announces its decision—the decree that will send the convicted men to the gallows or give them a new lease of life by directing another trial of the internationally famous case.

RANNEY CLOSES FOR STATE.

In closing his argument for the Commonwealth, Assistant Attorney General P. Ranney of Norfolk County defended the conduct of the trial by Superior Court Judge Webster Thayer, former District Attorney Frederick Katzman and his then assistant, Harold P. Williams, now Federal prosecutor.

Ranney charged defense counsel with false testimony at the trial, the alleged refusal to call the defense's chief witness, and said that it was intended to rebut the state's strong evidence of "consciousness of guilt" displayed by the two accused men.

Mr. Ranney defended Mr. Katzman and his then associate, Mr. Williams, from imputation of impropriety in connection with "pearl necklace" of the testimony of the late Captain Prior with regard to the defense's chief witness.

DEFENSE TRIAL JUDGE.

"It has been asserted in argument here," Ranney said, "that a trial judge missed his power, the district attorney was unfair, that the jury was part of it—was improperly chosen and that consideration was given to the defense and prejudicial was allowed in every objection."

"We hope we have shown here," he added, "that this trial was not a 'show trial' but a trial of an honorable and courageous court doing its duty and we hope that the court will find these defendants have had a fair trial and we urge that these motions be denied."

Attorney William G. Thompson, for the defendants, was given permission to state he had intended to call no witnesses, personally, upon Mr. Katzman and Mr. Williams. But he admitted that they were undoubtedly laboring under stress of great excitement and fear throughout the trial.

NAVY AVIATION GETS BLOW IN CONGRESS

House Committee Would Abandon Lakehurst, Cut Warships and Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The House committee on naval aviation today took the first step toward a complete reorganization of the service. It voted to abandon Lakehurst, to cut the number of warships and to reduce the number of men in the service.

The committee also voted to reduce the number of warships from 100 to 75, and to reduce the number of men from 10,000 to 8,000. It also voted to abandon Lakehurst, which is the only naval air station in the world.

The committee's report is expected to be passed by the House in the near future. It is a blow to the navy's aviation program, which has been building up since the war.

STATE URGED TO CONTROL GAS FOR HEAT

Necessity to Regulate Gas Prices for Heating

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The state should take steps to control the price of gas for heating, according to a report from the Massachusetts Gas Association.

The report states that the price of gas for heating has risen sharply in recent months, and that this has caused a hardship for many people.

The report also states that the price of gas for heating is higher than in other parts of the country, and that this is due to the high cost of gas in Massachusetts.

The report recommends that the state should take steps to control the price of gas for heating, such as by setting a maximum price.

The report also recommends that the state should take steps to ensure that the gas supply is adequate for the winter months.

EASY TO DARKEN
YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color
With Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur

When your hair turns gray, it is because the color-bearing cells in the hair follicles are being destroyed. This is due to a lack of certain elements in the blood. Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur is a powerful blood purifier and tonic. It restores the color-bearing cells to their normal state, and your hair grows back dark and lustrous. It is the only preparation of its kind that is guaranteed to bring back color to the hair.

DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN AGAIN

Some flippant posing subscribers mailed in the above snapshot of Governor Phelan taken at the State fair and under the picture, "Prize Bull With Two Calves." It would hardly be said that this department from such snuffiness amongst taxpayers and respectfully requests that it not happen again. After all, the Governor is the taxpayer.

LITTLE BOOKEEP

The world is getting better. R. M. M. postcards a sign from a Brunswick Theatre which says: "THE LAD WHO LIED MONDAY & TUESDAY ONLY."

Another cocked hat

He says he's never banned against a snore of fresh, wet paper.

Newspaper headline says: DRY TO SLEEP

"This should be very gratifying to the legal fraternity," postcards Attorney Thomas Martin from White Plains, "as we have long contended that juries should have a change to sleeping hours."

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE ABOUT THIS

"From Newspaper"

"Members are beginning to haul my officers who are trying to enforce the law," said the police chief this morning. "I will not stand for my officers being abused. Every man on the force is trying to do his duty and when law violators begin to abuse them that is right where I take a hand."

BEHOLD THE NEW WAY OF PLACING TRAFFIC LIGHTS IN NOVEL PLACES

"This is Michael McGonigle, who has placed a new way of placing traffic lights in novel places. Airplanes can usually find anything as wide as a boulevard and when dropping bombs," says the inventor, "so we have placed a Colored Minuteman with a few thousand more buttons here and there. Colored Minutemen have the flag on the car at night when the streets are dark and just like a new way of placing buttons he sticks in revenue producing positions."

WORDS OF WISE MEN

By Foxy Grandpa

Bobby was playing devil-take-my-hind and just as he started to make a very slow backward stroke some thing flew through the air and hit him.

It was a flying fox, and soon it got the breadth and then swoosh it hit him.

Yes, I brought this diamond pin from France and it costs me five thousand dollars.

How much?

I brought it from France.

And you paid what for it?

I paid five thousand dollars for it and I can prove it by the United States Custom House officials.

FINANCE

By R. C. FORBES

In the early days the automobile business attracted pioneers, adventurers, wealthy men of title and capital, often men of no special business experience. It was then an infant industry.

All this has changed. The automobile business today has attracted the ablest business men and leaders of finance in the United States, and also some of the brilliant and most successful business men in the country. After its long career in the infancy, the automobile business has now reached the maturity of its life. The sales of new automobiles are now being made in the thousands, and the industry is now a leading factor in the national economy.

Responsible, brilliant, capable men are now making their mark in the automobile business. They are not only producing automobiles, but they are also producing the future of the industry.
